

Anne Stausboll

Chief Executive Officer

Anne Stausboll became Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the California Public Employees' Retirement System in January 2009. She is the eighth CEO and first woman to head the pension fund. Ms. Stausboll oversees 2,300 employees, a budget of more than $332 million, and programs spanning investments, health and retirement benefits administration, actuarial and employer services, supplemental retirement programs, government affairs, stakeholder relations, and numerous support functions. She served as the CalPERS Chief Operating Investment Officer from 2004-2008, and during that period served twice as the CalPERS Interim Chief Investment Officer.

Before coming to CalPERS, Ms. Stausboll was Chief Deputy Treasurer to the California State Treasurer, beginning in July 2000. Prior to serving in the State Treasurer's Office, Ms. Stausboll worked for six years in the CalPERS Legal Office, including two years as Deputy General Counsel.

Ms. Stausboll received her Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Oberlin College and her Juris Doctor degree (Order of the Coif) from the University of California, Davis School of Law.

Ms. Stausboll serves as the co-chair of the Ceres Board, the nation's largest coalition of investors, environmental groups, and nonprofit organizations working with companies to address sustainability challenges such as global climate change.

She also serves on the Toigo Foundation Advisory Board, an organization with a goal of increasing diversity in the finance industry. She was a member of the working group that drafted the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment and served on its Governing Board from 2006 – 2009.

In addition, Ms. Stausboll was named one of the Top 25 Nonbank Women in Finance, part of “U.S. Banker” magazine’s 25 Most Powerful Women in Banking for 2007, 2008, and 2009.
